The Penalty of Pot

Pot users will dislike reading this. Particularly young ones since they disbelieve any study made on marijuana. And this study is on a collision course with the philosophy of pot users.

Disbelief may be a natural reaction since most of the early studies were based on poorly applied research which often used doses that were artificially high. Pushers did their homework well and used the weak parts of the studies to convince smokers that "a cigarette is a cigarette" and if you're going to smoke, why not get to cloud 9 in the process."

In a recent conference on marijuana use, 41 scientists from 13 nations met in Reims, France to evaluate years of study they had conducted on the fall-out of pot-smoking. The studies were based on dosages equivalent to actual human consumption. This report was then distributed by State Senator Bill Richardson. The report was alarming!

Much of the research was performed with rhesus monkeys, which are primates whose bodies metabolize marijuana in a similar manner to humans.

For 6 years, one of the scientists had been studying the effects of chronic pot smoking on monkeys. When 2 of the test animals became pregnant, one of the babies died of water on the brain, a rare occurrence in monkeys, and the baby of the other was extremely hyperactive in comparison to other control babies.

Other developments showed that 44 percent of the mothers did not have normal babies. The babies were either lost during pregnancy by resorption, still birth, or by infant death after being born. All this occurred with mothers who were receiving a human equivalent of 1, 2 or 3 marijuana cigarettes a day. Studies on the monkeys and other animals clearly showed that marijuana interferes with deliveries from the stork. Young couples who would like to have normal babies should give some thought to their chances with marijuana.

Factually, marijuana smokers may have a great deal of trouble in conceiving children in the first place. Studies showed that female monkeys, with a human like 28-day cycle, ceased to ovulate when injected with marijuana substances. Injections which were the equivalent of a single marijuana cigarette lowered the level of 2 basic hormones which control the ovary.

The guys, too, had problems. 16 male pot smokers, studied for 3 months had a significant decrease in the number of sperm produced and in their mobility. There was a significant increase in the number of abnormal sperm cells. It was also noted that the metabolism of sperm cells was altered, which lead the scientists to fear that genetic material was possibly also altered. Such concern should lead young couples to ask themselves if a brief escape from reality is worth a potential lifetime of tragedy for their children.

The study also showed that repeated use of marijuana causes a breakdown of lung tissue. Air passages become blocked with tissue debris and clogged with cholesterol created by cell destruction. The resulting lesions in the lungs appear as long as a month after marijuana use, which suggests that these symptoms may not be reversible.

Marijuana use, the scientists indicate, doesn't give the young user a chance to use his head well at all. Test animals given the equivalent of 1 marijuana cigarette a day showed alarming symptoms of mental disruption. They became extremely irritable, they bit and chased each other, and some became so aggressive that they killed — a very unusual occurrence with monkeys. Further studies showed changes in neurotransmitters of various brain cells and other abnormalities.

Even as this study angers some pot adherents, perhaps a few will recognize the damage they can wreak on their children yet to be born even though they may not worry about the damage they do to themselves.

Low Income Tenants Can Get Help on Rent

Lower income persons and households can get rental assistance payments through the County of San Diego with applications for the program being accepted now.

Senior citizens, handicapped persons and families with certain gross income limits are eligible for the Housing Assistance Payments program.

'Curious Savage' To Close Sat.

The last three performances of "The Curious Savage" will be Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the Lemon Grove Junior High School Auditorium.

The three-act comedy concerns 5 residents of "The Cloisters," a board and room facility for mental patients, whose lives are changed when a wealthy widow finds herself deposited among them.

A mother-daughter combination, Adele and Kimberly Garland lead the cast in the roles of Mrs. Savage and Nurse Wilhelm. Until recently they were Lemon Grove residents. Local talent includes Bob Burns, Terri Simmons, Art Brown and David Forrest, who makes his home in Spring Valley.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for juniors and senior citizens, and may be purchased at Marder's Stationers in Lemon Grove. For reservations call Harold Berg at 466-1445.

assistance Payments program. It is being administered by the County's Housing Authority which will accept applications by telephone only.

To get on the list, applicants should call the Housing Authority at 236-4794 or 236-2933. Applicants are asked to keep trying if the phone lines are busy.

Eligible persons may receive rental assistance for housing units in unincorporated areas of the County and in the cities of Lemon Grove, Escondido, Del Mar, Chula Vista, El Cajon, Imperial Beach, La Mesa, Oceanside, Vista and San Marcos.

There are presently about 700 openings for participation in the program, although the number could go somewhat higher due to people leaving the program.

Eligible tenants pay no more than 25 per cent of their gross monthly income as rent directly to the property owner. The difference between the tenant's payment and the total rent is paid by the Housing Authority.

To be eligible for this program, a person's gross income must not exceed the following amounts: one person, $9,100, family of two, $10,350, family of three, $11,650, family of four, $12,950, family of five, $13,800, family of six, $14,600, family of seven, $15,400, and family of eight, $16,200.

READY TO DEDICATE — Olin Thompson, left, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce and Dr. Griff Clark, former president of the Lemon Grove Rotary Club, admire the flagpole recently erected by the Rotary next to the chamber's "Welcome to Lemon Grove" sign at the corner of North and Main streets, near City Hall. The pole, like the sign, will be dedicated to the memory of the late Col. Thomas Clayton, former Rotary president.

Flagpole To Be Dedicated To Rotary Leader Clayton

The "Welcome to Lemon Grove" corner at Main and North streets near City Hall is quickly becoming "Clayton's Corner," as another addition to the display of civic pride, a Lemon Grove Rotary Club-donated flagpole, will be dedicated next week to the late Col. Thomas Clayton, former Rotary president and long-time civic leader.

The "Welcome to Lemon Grove" sign erected on the site by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is already dedicated to Clayton.

Dedication of the flagpole will be at 2:15 p.m. next Tuesday, Nov. 14, said Dr. Griff Clark, another former Rotary president.

Dr. John Barbour, Clayton's pastor at the Central Congregational Church of La Mesa, will make the dedication, Clark said.

Clark said he also expects Lemon Grove Mayor Jim Dorman to attend, as well as representatives from Lemon Grove VFW Post 2082, who will donate a brand new American flag to fly on the pole.

The pole will be lighted at night, by a fixture atop the nearby "Welcome to Lemon Grove" sign, said Olin Thompson, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

Thompson credited two Lemon Grove firms, Arrow Electric and Marlin's Rentals "for their help, assistance and donations involved in lighting the pole."

Dr. Brad Kessling, current Rotary president who was unavailable for picture-taking last week, will officiate at the ceremony.

City To Keep Lights On In LG Lighting District

Lemon Grove's City Council, nudged by citizens' reaction to street light-dousing in Poway, agreed to leave all lights on in the LG Lighting District until the end of the fiscal year—June 30.

Not that citizen reaction was not evident in Lemon Grove, as well as in Poway. Several people had come prepared to fight for the lights but were mollified when Mayor Dorman, and the council, together with City Manager Jack Shelver, all agreed that "a way must be found to keep the lights on." The city will provide funds for this purpose but only until June 30 under a motion by Councilman Jack Doherty.

"After that we'll have to find another way," Mayor Dorman said. "Crime prevention, traffic and pedestrian safety require that."

Councilman Robert Burns wanted lights for the entire city.

The problem is that it is unfair to use money collected from the entire city to use only in lighting districts, Shelver said.

Street lighting has been provided by way of districts which were formed prior to Lemon Grove's incorporation. The districts are operated under contract with the County. Approximately 700 street lights are in districts. These cover about 65 per cent of the city's area. Unless funded, 236 of them—all but intersection and street-end lights—would have been doused under orders from the County.

Councilman Dell Lake proposed that lighting for the entire city be made a part of the city's general plan.

One citizen arguing for lights, Joanne Gibilisco, said, "I find it incomprehensible to be told that you can't afford $16,000 for lighting and approve $330,000 for putting electric lines underground (Broadway near Massachusetts) to be paid by SDG&E out of surcharges the firm has made over the years).

Shelver noted that the problem was not being solved by appropriating funds now. "Next year it will be an entirely new ball game. We will have to come up with a fee schedule not based on ad valorem tax."

Council rejected a request from Harmon, Brown and Baranoff for rezoning 1.82 acres of land on Imperial south of Mt. Vernon, from R-2A residential to commercial. The trio was referred to the Planning Commission after it was indicated that the change, if made, would probably have to be in line with the general plan. A community questionnaire has been ordered to get citizen input on the plan re-study.

Vernon Block, who lives on Washington adjacent to the soccer field at the L.G. Park, told how loud noises, such as bullhorns, whistle blowing evenings and all day Saturday, and noises from tape players by groups who become boisterous from drinking, disturb families in the neighborhood on Sundays.

Mayor Dorman said that council was aware of the problem and that he is proposing that park funds be used to sod some playgrounds at schools so that noisemaking activities could be better distributed.

Council also heard a report from Manager Shelver that the street resurfacing project had cost less than the fund budgeted. V. R. Dennis, the contractor, was authorized to add New Jersey, Broadway to central; Cypress from Central to San Miguel; Madison, from Cypress to Olive; Burnell from Cypress to Olive; Grange from Mt. Miguel to Main, and Davidson from Buena Vista to Main to the list. Even so, $50,674 is left from the $250,000 budgeted for streets.

Several streets will be repaired under the Block Grant Drainage program. These are Buena Vista, Harris and Citrus streets. The county is still keeping its promise to resurface Broadway but will be asked to hold back the resurfacing until the undergrounding has been accomplished.

Sheriff's Office Lists Career Development Moves for 13

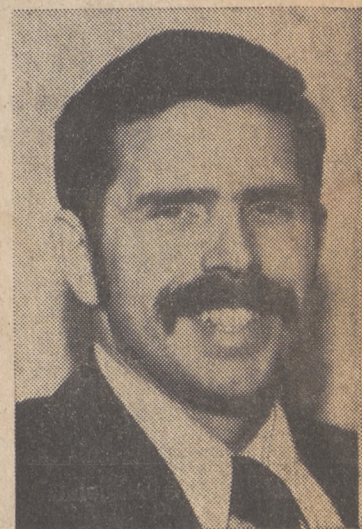

Career development changes that affected 13 officers of the Sheriff's office in Lemon Grove were announced here this week.

Sgt. Jay La Suer

Patrol Sgt. Jay La Suer was chosen to head the sheriff's new South Bay office. La Suer served in Lemon Grove for 2½ years. He lives in La Mesa.

Patrol officers from the Lemon Grove office who will staff the new facility are John Tenwolde, Terry Thomason, John Maschka, Tom Boven-siepe and Stu Brodie.

Detective George Carey

Also John Buttitta, Ken Gordon, Tim Anderson, Don Robbins, Leonard Zuniga and Al Polak.

The transfer took effect this week.

At the same time it was announced that Patrolman George M. Carey, of Jamul, had been transferred to the Lemon Grove area detectives' squad. Carey has served 3½ years at the L.G. office and had been cited for "continuous excellent service" by his patrol sergeants.

Public to Pay Dearly For Environmental Rule

The cost of meeting proposed new regional air quality goals for the San Diego region is expected to have a direct impact on the area's economy, a San Diego Gas & Electric representative said in Los Angeles recently.

George Anastas, supervisor of the company's environmental programs, told the Joint Legislative Committee on the State's Economy that tactics proposed by the S.D. Air Pollution Control District for controlling oxides of nitrogen from power plants could cost SDG&E ratepayers between $59 million and $179 million a year.

This added cost of electricity, he said, would have a direct impact on electric-intensive industries and could affect employment in those industries.

Studies done for the utility show the increased cost of electricity also could affect the willingness of new industry to settle in the area.

Anastas said SDG&E does not object to efforts to improve air quality, but added that there are economic and technical uncertainties with the proposed strategies for attaining the goals.

SDG&E believes other alternatives may be more cost effective and that further evaluation is necessary to find the best solution to the emission problem, Anastas said.

He urged the joint committee to advise the Air Resources Board to request that the Federal Clean Air Act be amended to extend the compliance date for control of oxides of nitrogen.

Anastas said that the S.D. County Board of Supervisors has voted to ask ARB to petition the Environmental Protection Agency to extend the deadline.

Light-Rail Transit Topic of SD CofC Luncheon Meeting

Light-rail transit in San Diego will be discussed at the San Diego Chamber of Commerce Focal Point luncheon beginning at 12 noon tomorrow on the 22nd floor of the Central Federal Tower downtown.

Judith Bauer, chairwoman of the Metropolitan Transit Development Board, will be guest speaker at the free meeting. She will examine the topic, "Is the light-rail transit system meant for San Diego?" A question-and-answer period will follow.

Bauer also is a member of the Sweetwater Union High School District board of trustees and the Chula Vista City School District board of education.

Complimentary coffee will be served but guests must provide their own sack lunches. Guests are asked to call 232-0124, ext. 32, for reservations.

'BUT IT WON'T FIT IN THE MAILBOX' — That's not really a problem for Leonard Klein, owner of Marders Stationers, 7939 Broadway in Lemon Grove. But it's one thing wise-cracking photographers say when he shows them his 7-digit "environmental" license plates, proudly emblazoned with the initials and zip code of the City of Lemon Grove. Funds from the sale of "environmental" plates go to a number of ecological projects throughout the state; more than $13.5 million has been raised since the program began in 1970, although 7-digit plates are relatively new. Klein paid $25 for his "LG92045" — and will have to pay $10 renewal every year. "I'm surprised nobody else in town got this one first," Klein said.

DeLoux Schools Offer Show, Contest, Dancing

More than 3,000 persons are expected to attend DeLoux Schools of Cosmetology Inter-schools Competition Sunday at the Holiday Inn on the Embarcadero.

The show and contest, with more than 250 students taking part, starts at 9 a.m. and closes at 6 p.m. During the day cocktails will be available and public dancing is programmed. The show and dancing are free and the public is invited.

Trophies will be awarded to students for first, second and third places in haircutting, trend styling, make-up and hair coloring.

Models will portray the "Total Look" including makeup and attire. Theme for the show is "1,001 Nights."

Judges are to be the top

German Folk Dances Among G'Mont Dance Selections

A suite of six German folk dances, performed by a 22-member troupe including Kitty Robinson of 10333 Fairhill Dr., Spring Valley, will be among the highlights of the Grossmont College Dance Group's Annual Fall Dance Concert performances tonight through Saturday night.

Performances will begin at 8 p.m. each night at the East County Performing Arts Center, 210 E. Main St. in El Cajon. General admission tickets are $2.50, $2 for students, senior citizens and children 12 and younger.

The program will include dances choreographed by both faculty and students. Besides the German suite, co-choreographed by faculty member Marcia Phillips and student assistant John Heglin, performances will include "Beautiful Bend" and "Sketches" by instructor Dr. Lolita Carter.

Lawrence Eddington will perform a ballet solo, "Capriccio," and Kathy Lamb will perform in her own choreography of "You Belong To Me."

Other faculty members performing and/or choreographing include Clark Mires and Dick Lantz. Student choreographers are Laura May, Susan Flahive, Thomas Teague, Lorinda Fazio, Brenda Callahan and Freya Schilling.

The Grossmont College Dance Group has been performing since 1964. For more information, call the East County Performing Arts Center, 440-2277. For information about joining the group, call David Robinson at 448-1385 or John Heglin at 449-4956.

Admission is $1 per person to the event, which will include party games, prizes and arcade games.

There's An Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

Afraid to love

Q. I was divorced because I felt I'd missed something in being married at such a young age. I know eventually I want to settle down again with a man I can love and trust. Right now I feel I can't love one man that much. Tell me—how do I shake this fear about falling in love? When will I know that when I fall in love I won't want a different man? I have a lot of love to give but this fear may destroy my chances for a long, meaningful relationship.

A. Any fear can produce abnormal results in a person's life. Therefore it would seem advisable for you to work on eliminating fear of any kind. Learn to live a fear-free life. Practice being happy, wholesome, outgoing. Get your thoughts off yourself; then you will be conditioned to meet a man whom you can love and trust and who will love and trust you. We have a booklet, "Overcoming Anxiety and Fear," that may help you and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Doesn't want or need closeness

Q. Two days after our divorce my husband and I got together again. The other woman had jilted him. The first few months home he was so sweet and loving and then he got to where he didn't want any closeness, sex or otherwise. He doesn't need it or want it. Then he stopped going out. Says his partying days are over. I still enjoy these things, and if I want to go he says, "Go ahead." What do you think is wrong?

A. The problem could be either with you or with your husband or with both of you. You ought to give that fact some very serious thought. Could be your husband is a natural-born baby who never matured. Maybe he just wants you to be a loving mama who will let him have what he wants when he wants it. Some men subconsciously marry a mother figure rather than a wife. Mrs. Peale wrote a book called "The Adventure of Being a Wife" in which she has a chapter titled "Study Your Man." Perhaps your local library would have a copy. Many women tell me this book helps them improve their marriages.

Spreads Gloom

Q. My daughter says she has nothing to be happy about, and I just don't understand. She attempted suicide five years ago and almost succeeded. She's divorced and seems to think a happy marriage would solve all her problems. She is so negative and depressed that people try to stay away from her. I know how they feel. It makes me feel depressed to be around her. How can I help her?

A. Sounds like your daughter is pretty mixed up, and we suggest you try to get her to have counseling from a local pastor or perhaps a psychiatrist.

It could be possible that she is suffering from abnormal depression, and in that case she needs specialized treatment. A happy marriage is not at all likely in her present condition. She can never find happiness until her attitude changes.

If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564. If you would like to talk directly with a Prayer Partner, call Prayer Line (212)481-1050. Reduced long-distance rates are in effect nights and weekends.

Area Births

OK, boys and girls, listen up.

We've had our little joke for several weeks running now about how Spring Valley is outdistancing Lemon Grove in the local baby boom. But there comes a time when it's not a joke anymore.

This is getting serious. Do you realize that in the following list of births recorded from Oct. 24 through 30 at Grossmont Hospital, Spring Valley scores six bouncing babies and Lemon Grove only ONE?

Have all the potential parents in Lemon Grove taken vows of celibacy? Is Johnny Carson so boring he puts all of Lemon Grove to sleep? Have them Commies finally gotten something into the water, but only in Lemon Grove?

WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOU, LEMON GROVE????

Oct. 24: A son, Bret Andrew, born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bruce Kelley of Spring Valley; a son, Michael Scott, born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carl Shaffer of Spring Valley.

Oct. 26: A daughter, no name available at presstime, born to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hecker of Spring Valley.

Oct. 28: A son, Toby Allen Lawrence, born to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Gannuso of Spring Valley; a daughter, Meagan Elizabeth, born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Vogan, Jr. of Spring Valley.

Letters to the Editor

Understanding Inflation

Dear Editor:

Here is part of a letter I wrote to the President regarding understanding taxes.

"Understanding taxes—the raising of public funds would be easy if the principle stated in Article VIII, the Articles of Confederation, were followed . . . 'a common treasury which shall be supplied by the several states in proportion to the value of all the land within each state, granted to or surveyed for any person . . . 'The proposals for accounting for, and assessment of incomes neither due to the use of labor nor the bona fide capital can be the answer to inflation. There are no exemptions on such assessments.

"Taxes on the wages of labor, including management, and on the returns for the use of bona fide capital are always passed on to the final consumer, cause the wage-price squeeze, the basic cause of inflation."

Thanks Expressed

Dear Editor:

We wish to express a heartfelt "thank you" to each of the young people and adults who cleared away the unsightly and bothersome tumbleweeds that were growing along the railroad tracks parallel to Main St., in Lemon Grove. We also thank the very efficient men of the Lemon Grove Fire Department for the controlled burning. We appreciate it!

This Week's RECIPE

Sweet-and-Sour Short Ribs

Less-than-tender cuts of beef are perfect for slow cooking in the oven or portable electric slow cooker. Beef short ribs which have meat clinging to the bones do exceptionally well by this method, based on a low cooking temperature and a small amount of liquid.

The flavor develops in cooking and the beef practically falls off the bones. The savory sauce is based on a can of tomato sauce with sweet-and-sour accents added. Preparation time is speedy — once you get the knack of cooking this way you'll find yourself doing it often in the oven or slow cooker.

This is one of a series of recipes featuring unusual ways to cook beef, provided by the California Beef Council.

Sweet-and-Sour Beef Short Ribs

4 pounds lean beef short ribs
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
2 tablespoons molasses
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 teaspoon liquid smoke

Have the short ribs cut into squares. Trim off and discard fat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, place in baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and heat to boiling. Pour over ribs and cover tightly.

Bake in 250-degree oven 5 to 6 hours, until very tender. To cook in slow cooker, cook on low setting about 8 hours. Makes 6 servings.

Candy, Soda Pop May Be Barred From Sale on School Grounds

The United States Department of Agriculture is going to the public early next year with a series of hearings on the question of banning the sale of candy and other competitive foods in schools, said Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman.

Based on public comments received at next year's hearings, the department will issue new proposed regulations which will become final in time for the 1979-80 school year. The Secretary of Agriculture has been directed to regulate the sale of competitive foods in schools.

Last April, the department proposed banning the sale of competitive foods — candy, soda water, frozen desserts and chewing gum—in schools until the end of the lunch period. These were called "competitive" foods because they are sold in competition with the school lunch and breakfast programs.

More than 2,000 students, parents, teachers, school administrators, medical people and others commented on the proposals. "The public comments," said Foreman, "raised fundamental questions we feel we must address before going further. Can some foods be considered more nutritious than others? What are the public's concerns about the relationship between diet and health?"

A ban is being considered on competitive foods because the department is concerned about the increasing numbers of students eating these foods and then skipping lunch or only eating part of their lunch.

Careers Search Workshop Topic

A one-day intensive career search workshop will be held Saturday, Nov. 18 at San Diego State University. Values clarification, skills identification, goal setting, career decision making, and employment seeking strategies will be covered in detail.

Bring your $15 registration fee and a sack lunch to SDSU's North Education Building, room 174B, at 9 a.m. By the 4 p.m. close of the workshop, you should have the answers to your personal career questions.

The workshop will be conducted by three SDSU professionals in the field of employment counseling: Dr. Charles A. Harkness, Professor Alice Cochran, and career counselor Mary Pat Gannon.

The Big Country
South America covers 6,850,000 square miles.

Hungarian Pianist to Guest With SD Symphony Orchestra

The sensational young pianist Zoltan Kocsis will guest with the San Diego Symphony under the baton of music director Peter Eros on November 16, 17 and 19. All three concerts will be performed at the San Diego Civic Theatre.

Hungarian-born Kocsis, at the age of 18, was awarded the top prize in the Beethoven Piano Competition sponsored by the Hungarian radio. Three years later, in 1973, the 21-year-old became the youngest pianist ever to be awarded the coveted "Liszt Prize" by the Hungarian government in recognition of his outstanding services to musical culture at home and abroad.

Kocsis, who was born in Budapest in 1952, began studying the piano at age 5. He enrolled in the Budapest Bela Bartok Conservatory at the age of 11 and studied composition and piano. In 1968 he was admitted to the Budapest Ferenc Liszt Academy of Music where he studied under internationally known piano teachers Pal Kadosa and Ferenc Rados.

Kocsis has performed in Austria, Britain (including London's Festival Hall), France, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Finland, Holland, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, New York's Carnegie Hall, Washington, D.C., and the U.S.S.R.

Tickets at $10, $9, $8 and $6 are now on sale at the Center Box Office, 202 "C" st., and all Select-a-Seat locations.

Job Aid Ready For Homemakers

Beginning in November, the San Diego Kind Corporation's P.R.O.V.E.N. program, under a joint contract with the San Diego Regional Employment and Training Consortium (RETC) and the State of California's C.E.T.A. office, will start a pilot project designed to implement employment and training services for eligible economically disadvantaged displaced homemakers.

The job seeker is described as a recent widow or divorcee who, after many years of marriage, must begin to provide for herself or the wife whose husband has left her without financial support. She is the woman with grown children who is no longer eligible for AFDC, or the widow who is too young to draw upon Social Security.

In short, the displaced homemaker is any woman who is forced by circumstances into the unfamiliar role of breadwinner after many years of working in the home. Many women in this situation have never had a paying job or their training and education are inadequate.

The P.R.O.V.E.N. Program's Displaced Homemaker Project is designed to implement these activities for eligible displaced homemaker applicants.

Interested individuals are encouraged to apply now with the San Diego Kind Corporation's P.R.O.V.E.N. Program located at the Downtown Senior Center, 927 'C' in San Diego or call the P.R.O.V.E.N. Program at 239-7751.

Genealogical Group To Meet Saturday

The San Diego Genealogical Society will hold its regular monthly meeting beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday in the social room at the North Park Recreational Center, 4044 Idaho St., San Diego.

Guest speaker will be Rear Adm. Herald F. Stout, USN-Ret., who will speak on "Family Organization." He has published books on the subject and is a past president of the society.

The society will not hold another regular meeting until Feb. 10, 1979. Its annual banquet and installation of officers will be Jan. 13.

Sweetwater Homes On Holiday Tour

The Sweetwater Woman's Club announces its 11th Annual Holiday Decor Home Tour, "Yuletide Memories" on Thursday, November 30 11 a.m.-8 p.m.

3 Bonita homes will be decorated for Christmas. All hand-crafted decorations and gift items will be sold, both in the homes and at the clubhouse, 3855 Sweetwater rd., Bonita.

The $2.50 donation includes light refreshments at the clubhouse after 1 p.m. Tickets are available at the door. Proceeds are used for the club philanthropies.

BEDS FOR THE AILING

Hospitals in the United States now have a total of 4.4 million beds.

Earn interest on all your money all the time.

LANDMARK COMBINATION SAVING → CHECKING ACCOUNT

What is a Landmark Account?

It's a new, convenient way to make your money work harder for you. Money kept in a regular checking account earns no interest at all. But with a Landmark Account, your money earns interest right up to the minute it's needed to cover your checks.

How does a Landmark Account work?

Each time one of your checks reaches our bank, we will transfer just enough money from your savings account into your checking account to cover it. In this way, you can maintain a zero balance in your checking account, and keep a maximum balance earning interest.

How does a Landmark Account differ from a Telephone Transfer Account at a Savings & Loan?

With telephone transfer, you must call your savings and loan each time you want to make a transfer. As a result, your money reaches the bank before your check does and no longer earns interest for you.

But with a Landmark Account, your money is transferred only when your check reaches our bank. Only your bank knows the precise moment when money is needed to cover the checks written, and with Landmark it's done automatically without so much as a telephone call.

What about Service Charges?

There are no service charges if you keep a minimum balance of $1,500 in your Landmark Account. Should your balance drop below $1,500 during the month, there will be a modest service charge of $2.00, plus a charge of 15¢ per check.

How much interest will I earn on a Landmark Account?

A Landmark Account pays 5% compounded daily, which gives an annual yield of 5.13%. You may actually earn more money with a Landmark combined savings/checking account than if you placed your savings in a higher interest account and maintained a separate checking account as the example in the table below shows.

You should open a Landmark Account if:

- 1) You want to earn interest on all your money, all the time.
- 2) You want to avoid the problem of keeping track of two or more accounts at different places.
- 3) You want to avoid making telephone calls to transfer your funds.
- 4) You want the convenience of banking 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, through the most complete county-wide automatic teller machines available — our "7/24" system.

An open invitation to you:

Call or come in to any of our branch offices and give us the opportunity to explain the advantages and options of this brand new way to bank.

Add Interest to Your Life.

Assume you now have a $3,000 savings account and a checking account which has an average balance of $900. WITH THE NEW LANDMARK ACCOUNT YOU COULD BE EARNING INTEREST ON THE WHOLE $3,900.

Type of Present Savings Account	Present Interest	LANDMARK INTEREST	YOUR ANNUAL GAIN
S & L Passbook	$161.70	$199.94	$38.24
S & L 90-Day Acct.	$177.55	$199.94	$22.39

Chief Charger Rivals from Kansas Meet Surging Chargers Sunday

The S.D. Chargers and Kansas City Chiefs, rivals since Day 1, meet Sunday at 1 p.m. in an NFL game at the Big Stadium.

The Chargers are 4-6 after winning their second game in a row, 22-13 over Cincinnati Sunday.

The Chiefs are 2-8 after losing to Oakland 20-10.

Charger members are beginning to emerge as winners.

Dan Fouts is third in the AFC with 12 touchdown passes. Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw has 18 and New England's Steve Grogan 13. Fouts is 5th-ranked passer in the Conference with a 75.0 rating. Artie Owens leads the AFC with a 29.1-yard kickoff return average. Lydell Mitchell is 10th in rushing with 524 yards and needs 20 to surpass the total of 543 by the club leader, Rickey Young. Mitchell is 3rd in the AFC with 38 pass receptions. Mike Fuller is 5th in the AFC with a 10.9 punt-return average. Rolf Benirschke is 5th with a kick-scoring total of 53 points.

Middle linebacker Bob Horn has the unofficial team lead with 68 sacks. Weakside Linebacker Woodrow Lowe has 65.

Fred Dean leads the Chargers and the AFC with 12 sacks for 104 yards. Gary Johnson, last year's club leader with 13.5 for 129 yards, has 8.5 for 93 yards. Louie Kelcher has 5.5 for 129 yards. Right tackle Russ Washington will play in consecutive game number 151 against Kansas City. He made 120 consecutive starts.

Last week the Chargers restricted Cincinnati to 123 total yards in the first 58 minutes. The Bengals gained 125 yards on 2 touchdown drives that began at the game's 2 minute warning.

The Chargers' 4 sacks of quarterback Ken Anderson allowed them to retain the NFL lead with 35 for 307 yards. Dallas has 34 sacks and L.A. 33.

Lydell Mitchell rushed for 101 yards and has a career total of 6,011 yards, becoming the 12th player in NFL history to rush for 6,000 yards.

The Chargers weekly home-game Backers luncheon will be Friday in the Stadium Sports Club at noon. The player of the week and special teams player of the week from the Cincinnati game will be in attendance.

KSDO (1130) begins coverage of the game at 10:45 a.m. with the Pat Curran Show. Chargers Talk, the Don Coryell Show, game coverage and the Lockerroom show follow with Chargers Talk resuming.

The next home game is on Monday, December 4 at 6 p.m.

Bus Service for Chargers Game

San Diego Transit will provide full bus service to the San Diego Chargers' game Sunday when the team meets the Kansas City Chiefs at 1 p.m.

Stadium specials, which take fans directly into the Stadium parking lot, will commence service at 11:30 a.m.

Fans planning to attend the game can board Stadium specials at the southeast parking lot of Grossmont Center, in front of Grossmont Bank and College Grove Shopping Center, adjacent to College Grove drive.

Special stadium fare of $1 a trip in change (no bills) will be charged.

Nancy Lopez Returns to L.A. With $164,000

The Sunstar Classic will rise again at Rancho Park and so will the rising star of the LPGA golf tour, Nancy Lopez.

Tournament chairman Yasuyoshi Kaneda and L.A. mayor Tom Bradley jointly announced that the second $100,000 Sunstar Classic will be played March 8-11 at the city's Rancho Park Golf Course in West L.A.

First prize in the 72-hole tournament is $15,000.

Kaneda, executive vice president of Sunstar, said the tournament will be under new management. "We're most pleased to have People & Properties, headed by president Tony Andrea, handle all phases of our tournament," he said, "and Sho Tobarri our technical advisor."

Andrea's organization conducts about 12 LPGA tournaments a year across the country.

Superstar Nancy Lopez, who has won eight tournaments and a record $164,063 this year, made her Los Angeles debut in the Sunstar Classic in marvelous fashion.

Four shots behind front-running Debbie Austin heading into the final round of the Sunstar last March, Nancy fired a closing 1-under par 71 and edged Austin and Debbie Massey by a single shot.

Lopez shot a 3-under par 285 total over the 6268-yard, par 72 Rancho Park course and won $15,000.

Rancho Park, the most heavily played golf course in the world, again will be in superlative condition for the Sunstar. Rancho Park was the site of 16 L.A. Opens from 1956 to 1972.

Indoor Plant Class Starts in La Mesa

How to grow indoor plants and others in shady areas outdoors successfully will be the topic of a Grossmont College adult class beginning this week in Porter Hall, La Mesa. 8 sessions, all on Thursdays, begin today at 12:30. Classes will be 3 hours long and basic soil preparation, watering, fertilization and plant selection will be covered.

Seminar Planned For Racquetball Owners, Operators

A racquetball court business seminar is scheduled for December 8-9-10 at the Los Angeles International Airport Hotel.

It is designed to inform and educate court club owners, operators and investors.

The seminar is under the sponsorship of Court Club Enterprises of Scottsdale and a fee of $150 is charged.

The sponsor's address is 7856 E. Keim dr., Scottsdale, AZ 85253.

Ballard Smith On Club Program

The Boys' Clubs of San Diego has scheduled its 37th Annual Dinner Meeting Wednesday, Nov. 15 at 7 p.m. in the Harbor View Room of the Admiral Kidd Club, Richard Tullar, Chairman of the event said.

The program features Ballard Smith, vice president of the San Diego Padres and John D'Acquisto, player representative as the guest speakers.

3 national awards will be presented to members of the board of directors by Boys' Clubs of America representative, David H. Garfield.

Anaheim Stadium Site Of Motocross Finals

The stage is set for a spectacular showdown in motocross racing — the Coca-Cola Bottler's Motocross Finals at Anaheim Stadium Saturday. Not only are the motocross racers going to be battling it out in a series of qualifiers and semi-main events in an all out attempt to make the money-paying main, there's also going to be an added attraction — the Quaker State Oil Shotgun Showdown.

There will only be four or possibly five riders in this event, but they're going to be the very best of the 1978 season. Any rider who has won a Supercross event will be in this race and it is a winner-take-all $3000 purse.

Whoever crosses the finish line in the lead after 6 laps takes home all of the cash and the others will be left empty.

Tickets are $15, $12, $9 and $6.

Big, Bad, Brown To Defend Crown

15 bouts of professional wrestling have been carded for the Tuesday night meeting of the west coast's outstanding grapplers at the S.D. Coliseum.

The main event is an American heavyweight title bout in which the newly crowned Big, Bad, Leroy Brown defends his crown against Pedro Morales.

Chavo Guerrero pits his ability against the Continental Lover. Hector Guerrero is booked to take on Twin Devil no. 1.

Twin Devil no. 2 will scramble with Mike Hammer, of New Zealand.

In the finale, Black Gordman meets Great Goliath.

The card begins at 7:30. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts. downtown.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

Would you believe it? The KGB Chicken got busted last Sunday. Right there in front of God, 43,639 fans, players and coaches of both teams and an assortment of media folk, an over zealous "rent-a-cop" kicked the little red rooster right off the San Diego Charger's range.

You better believe the fans boo'd when Super-Kluck got shoo'd off the warm up area lying-unused by the Cincinnati's. Don Coryell's cut-ups were leading the Bengals 19-zip at the time and "Cocky" was doing his Charger Offense routine to the merriment of happy fans.

As usual, he was funnier than free peanuts at the White House doing Dan Fouts, Lydell Mitchell, Louie Kelcher, Rolf Benirschke, Dwight McDonald and John Jefferson all rolled into one continuous belly laugh.

He'd take the snap from center, hand off to himself, run through an imaginary line, tackle himself, bring in a message from the bench, fade and throw himself a pass for a touchdown and then kick the PAT.

He scored more mirth than points, but that didn't seem to count with the brevet hawkshaw who flat-footed over and cashiered "Cocky" off the premises.

Adding a badge to some guys can get them very heavy in the shirt. Totin' a shield makes a bigger change in some guys than Clark Kent in a phone booth.

Regular cops take a good bit of school housin' before they come forth to keep the peace and protect our rights. Mostly they do a right smart job of some pretty tough happenings.

Of course, the first thing regular cop shop folks do is weed out those clunkers who tend to wear a heavy badge. Unfortunately, that ain't always the case with proxy bulls.

I remember reading about a hired gun back east somewhere who caught a guy "dodging" into a long ticket line. The "gun" ordered the citizen out of the line and got a few, well chosen directions on where he could store his unheeded postulation as the jumper stayed put.

The surrogate sleuth ordered the man out of line three times, then pulled his cannon and shot the violator in the fetlock. One can only suppose they take line jumpin' pretty seriously back east.

There are degrees of righteousness laid upon us from time to time. I remember back in my early Navy days I once served five days in solitude on wine and cake for talking in the base movies.

But chicken pickin'? That seems pretty low-down, even for fuzz mercenaries.

Someone ought to call heavy badge totin' stadium security Sherlocks together and tell 'em they ain't supposed to pluck the KGB Chicken at these sportin' events. He's grown so popular, he's part of the show. And the way our teams go, from time to time "Cocky" is off times better 'n the main attraction.

He's a funny little guy and deserves better than the heavy hand of hired pawns pestering his person.

The KGB Chicken dances and struts his way to our collective funnybones at sportin' events, concerts, openings, weddings, bar mitzvahs, confirmations and contests all over our town.

He turned his back on Ted Turner when the Braves owner tried to pirate Cocky to Atlanta, even though the offer wasn't for chicken feed.

He's ours. He's as much a part of San Diego as inept politicians, late night and early morning fog, afternoon sunshine and folks takin' short work breaks from heavy golf schedules.

Anybody who would chase away the KGB genius would trip old ladies, pull for Oakland, kick dogs and vote against Black's Beach.

You can only hope the surrogate sleuth who leaned on Cocky, the Super Chicken, didn't have his kids in the stands. They'd never forgive him.

Kickin' the Chicken. Why that's worse than findin' out there ain't no Santa Claus. It's like livin' in Buffalo. Or outlawing booze.

I've got just one thing to say to the designated dick who chased Cocky away. And that's a great big "Shame on ya." What you did was so unAmerican, it surely has to be part of a communist plot.

Outdoors & Travel

By E. L. "Buck" Rogers

Should you hire a guide on a fishing trip, or not?

This is a controversial subject which I have heard debated around campfires and smoke-filled pubs ever since I can remember. And, of course, there are two sides to the question.

Price is a factor. A guide costs money, but the fees charged for a day of service differ widely from place to place. In Ireland, for instance, you can hire a ghilli for a few dollars to point out the best fishing holes. The same situation applies to a Chilean boatman who will handle a pair of oars all day on a float trip and put you over trophy trout that you'd never locate on your own. One of these "boteros" will charge a handful of escudos, worth less than $10. Besides, he'll throw in a couple of bottles of wine and cook a shore lunch of barbecued beef and fried trout you'll always remember.

In contrast, a bass fishing guide on Utah's Lake Powell may ask $250 for a day of fishing in his company. This is a high price for a few large-mouth and I doubt if these folks do much business. But the example does illustrate the wide difference in the prices fishing guides charge.

So, I suggest that you always ask "how much" before you make a travel decision.

Time can be a factor, too. If you're on a two-week family vacation with time on your hands for experimentation, a guide may not be necessary. In such cases it's more of a challenge to ask questions, and exercise your own fishing skills. You may go fishless for a day or so, but with plenty of time this isn't important.

But if you only have a few days to fish unfamiliar waters, a guide can be invaluable in making a vacation as enjoyable as possible. In such cases, time is more important than money.

Hiring a guide or not is also dependent on how well you know the species of fish and their habitat. I, for instance, would have no hesitation about fishing for trout, walleye, and pike in unfamiliar waters without a guide. Rivers are usually no problem either, because the spots where the fish are holding are evident. But, trying to fish a large bass lake, in the summer, without prior knowledge of its underwater structure or fish habitat is a different matter. In such cases, local assistance can make the difference between a good fishing trip and a complete bust.

Junior Todd Named Honorary Chairman Of '78 Holiday Bowl

Junior Todd, a man who has supported the growth of San Diego Sports and has been active in the community for 55 years has been named the Honorary Chairman of the 1978 Holiday Bowl football game, it was announced by Holiday Bowl President G.E. "Vinnie" Vinson.

Todd was selected by the Executive Committee of the bowl game for his "long time contributions to the San Diego sports scene."

"Without a person like Junior, who has worked long and hard to make San Diego the beautiful city that she is, we might never have had the opportunity to present a game like the Holiday Bowl. We are proud to honor Junior at this event and it is only fitting he is honored before 52,000 of his fellow San Diegans," said Vinson.

Orien W. Todd "Junior," a native of Illinois, migrated to San Diego in 1908. He joined Stanley Andrews Sporting Goods in 1923 and after a hitch in World War II, he formed a local partnership in 1946 and purchased the company.

He was president of the firm until the fall of 1967 at which time he sold the Stanley Andrews company.

His list of honors are almost endless.

They include: San Diego Boss of the Year, 1951; California Sportsman of the Year, 1960; San Diego Sportsman of the Year, 1961; and the 1963 Golden Man and Boy Award presented by the Boys Clubs.

Todd has been on the board of directors of the American National Red Cross, San Diego Convention and Tourist Bureau, Greater S.D. Sports Assn., S.D. Council Navy League and the San Diego Council Boy Scouts of America.

For the past 25 years, Todd has been on the Advisory Board of SDSU and he has been the chairman of the S.D. Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee and the S.D. City Lakes Recreation Commission.

Baseball Players To Star on Links For Arthritis Aid

Randy Jones, the 1976 National League Cy Young Award winner and manager Roger Craig highlight a stellar field of San Diego Padres who will be taking part in the upcoming Randy Jones-Arthritis Celebrity Golf Derby.

The fund-raising event is scheduled for Thursday, November 16 at the Cottonwood Country Club in El Cajon and the deadline for filing to play is Friday.

The affair will get underway at 11 a.m. with a shotgun start.

The San Diego Padres will be heavily represented in the derby. In addition to Jones and Craig there will be pitchers Bob Shirley and Mark Lee and catcher-infielder Gene Tenace and trainer Dick Dent.

Joining them from other clubs will be pitchers Tommy John and Frank Tanana.

Additionally, the field will feature long-time Dodger broadcaster Jerry Doggett, recognized as one of the top baseball announcers in the nation today.

The Derby will actually be a full day of fun as there will be a lunch and drinks served during competition plus a barbecue, drinks and entertainment after the golf is finished.

A blind draw will be held to determine the foursomes with each group featuring a top professional athlete. Special prizes will go to each competitor with the top award of the day being a new Datsun automobile from Terry Allen Datsun for a hole-in-one.

Entry fee is $150 which is totally tax deductible. To enter, file by midnight, Friday. Checks should be payable to the Arthritis Foundation Golf Derby, Arthritis Foundation/San Diego, 3719 4th ave, San Diego, 92103. The phone is 291-0430.

Wristbands Ready For Clipper Fans

The San Diego Clippers return to home base Tuesday to host the Indiana Pacers at 7:05 in the Sports Arena.

The first 5,000 fans at the Pacers game will get a pair of sweat wristbands.

Pro Hockey Returns SD Hawks Here Wed.

The San Diego Hawks open the 1978-79 Pacific Hockey League tonight in Spokane followed by a second match there with the Flyers on Saturday.

Then they bring the Flyers home for their home opener at 7:30 Wednesday at the Sports Arena.

Ron Oakes, the voice of the Hawks, said a large crowd is expected for the Wednesday game.

The Hawks have scheduled 30 Arena dates — 21 of which fall on weekend nights. The financial and artistic prospects appear extremely bright for the Hawks which were purchased in August by vacationing real estate developer Elmer "Tig" Jonett — a serious and financially stable franchise owner.

The tri-state, 6-team circuit is made up of teams from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Spokane, Phoenix and Tucson.

Spokane and Tucson are new entries in the league which bears a resemblance to the old Pacific Coast and Western Hockey Leagues.

The Hawks are a blend of former San Diego Gulls and Mariner players including such familiar names as Willie O'Ree, Joe Norris, Mike Bloom, John Miszuk, Ray Adduono and Kevin Devine.

Several promising newcomers are Bob Schnurr, Owen Lloyd and Gary Nakrayko.

The Hawks reported season ticket sales approaching the 1,500 mark which compares favorably with the best years of the old San Diego Gulls, Oakes said. Tickets for this season are $2.50 for students up to $5.50 for the best seats. Ticket cost includes parking which makes the cost of watching hockey a dollar less than it was when the Gulls low prices attracted large crowds. At that time prices were the same but parking was $1.

Opening night ceremonies mark Veterans Week with a color guard and a military band. During the first intermission George Scolari, a local figure skater will put on an exhibition. He becomes a professional when he joins Holiday on Ice in December.

Tickets are available now at the Sports Arena and its agencies. The phone is 224-4171.

Oakes will broadcast games on KSON with Sandy Fitzpatrick, a former Gull, supplying the color. Oakes, in addition to the Gulls, has been the voice of the Mariners and the Chicago Blackhawks.

HEADS ACADEMY — Dr. Simon Brumbaugh (center) a physician-surgeon member of the Lemon Grove Medical Group, is congratulated by Dr. Wilfred Snodgrass of Santa Monica after Dr. Brumbaugh was elected president of the California Academy of Family Physicians. Dr. Snodgrass is the Academy's retiring president. Looking on is Dr. Nickolas Kriket of San Bernardino, immediate past president of CAFPP and present president of the California Medical Association. The election was one of the matters highlighting the annual meeting of CAFPP this week at Hotel del Coronado. Dr. Brumbaugh is co-founder of the L.G. Medical Group which now has approximately 50 employees. Drs. Wesley Herbert and Tom Early were others involved in the formation.

Grid, Diamond Stars In Airlines Classic

NEW YORK — The lucky 13th annual American Airlines Golf Classic, featuring 64 outstanding football and baseball players, will be conducted at the El Conquistador Hotel & Country Club in Las Cruces, Puerto Rico, announced tournament chairman Randall Mallin.

The 54-hole, partner best ball handicap tourney will be played Feb. 24. First prize is $10,000, which the partners split.

Defending champions are Bobby Murcer, Chicago Cubs outfielder, and Bob Tucker, Minnesota Vikings tight end. They had to fight off the on-charging team of Jason Thompson, former Cal Northridge star now with the Detroit Tigers, and Lem Barney, Detroit Lions defensive back.

Thompson, a slugging first baseman, and Barney combined for a sensational closing net 54, 18-under par. Their tournament-equaling record was one stroke short, net 177 to 176, at McCormick Ranch CC, outside Phoenix.

This will be the third time El Conquistador has hosted the American Airlines event. In 1973, Leroy Kelly and Del Unser won. The next year Long Beach's Jeff Burroughs and Bob Anderson won.

How to Keep Them Down

Your Medical Bills Doctors' Prices Vary

Like other goods and services available in a free economy, the charges for physicians' services, hospital services, drugs and other health-care products and services vary from one provider to another.

When it comes to physicians' services, these variations can reflect differences in specialty, level of training, office overhead costs and the physicians' own personal evaluation of the value of their services.

Physicians' fees are not regulated by medical associations, and it shouldn't be assumed that all physicians charge the same for a similarly identified service. There often are wide variations in charge levels, and patients should bear in mind that a more expensive medical service is not necessarily better than a less expensive one.

Patients should discuss fees with the physician before a service is rendered, just as they might before buying any other service or product. It often is possible, by telephone, to secure information about usual fees for commonly performed services or for a specific procedure that may be needed.

However, some physicians don't feel comfortable providing this information by telephone, and there are many occasions when it is absolutely necessary for the physician to see the patient before he or she can determine what should be done and what the charge might be. Nevertheless, a telephone contact is a legitimate way for a patient to get free information before making an appointment with a physician.

If you have any questions about your physician's charges, discuss the matter with him or her. This is particularly important if your insurance carrier purportedly reimburses you on a "usual fee" basis, but you often find there is still a balance due. Sometimes the discrepancy may be because the carrier's perception of "usual fees" differs from that of the physician, and other times the physician's charging pattern may be higher than that of other doctors in the area. Because the financial relationship is generally all between the patient and the physician, not the insurance company and the physician, it is important that fees be discussed frankly.

In some situations, a physician may be required to accept as full payment the allowance from a so-called "third-party payer." This situation applies to physicians who are participating members of Blue Shield of California or, in certain instances, of various foundations for medical care. It is also true for services provided under Workers' Compensation and Medical-Cal. Under these circumstances, physicians can't bill patients for the balance. In other instances, however, "balance billing" is both legitimate and proper.

If the patient disputes his physician's bill, it can be appealed to the county medical society. In most cases, however, this "peer review" service applies only to physicians who are members of the medical society.

One final reminder: discussion about fees and an understanding of your insurance benefits BEFORE a service is rendered can generally avoid problems later.

Bulls Will Be Bulls —But One Year Sooner

SAN LUIS OBISPO — Bulls are becoming fathers at a tender age on some of California's cattle ranches. One-year-olds are leading sexually active lives once reserved for their older counterparts.

What has brought about this sexual revolution on the range? A panel of California cattlemen at a livestock meeting here said that it has been a matter of necessity. They are buying and using young bulls because:

—it is getting harder to find top quality two-year-old bulls;

—a two-year-old bull with a little experience the previous year on the ranch will outperform an inexperienced two-year-old one;

—the younger bulls are less expensive.

However, these young growing animals need extra management because, if given the opportunity, they will breed themselves right into poor health. The producers using young bulls in their programs agreed that the bulls need periodic "rests" from their breed-

Musical 'Pippin' On S'Western Stage

Southwestern College will offer its musical production "Pippin" November 10, 11, 12 and 16, 17, 18, 8 p.m. in Mayan Hall. "Pippin", by Roger Hirsom with music and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz is Southwestern's entry in this year's American College Theatre Festival.

Since its opening in 1972, this award winning musical has been hailed as "the impossible dream come true" by HOLLYWOOD REPORTER.

"Pippin" is an 8th century quest for fulfillment which finds itself finally and happily in peaceful domesticity. It is the San Diego premiere of this outstanding musical. Admission $3 general, $1.50 students, and $1 ASO. For reservations, 421-1691 or 421-6700 ext. 258.

HomeFed S&L Top $1 Billion Loans

Home Federal Savings and Loan Association of San Diego reports a record of more than $1 billion in lending volume over the last nine months, ended September 30, according to Home Federal president Kim Fletcher.

This $1 billion lending figure, which includes real estate and consumer lending, represents a 13.3 per cent increase over the total lending for the same period last year.

Consumer lending volume, which includes mobile home loans, home improvement loans, equity loans and student loans, totalled $102 million for the nine month period. This was a 21.7 per cent increase over the similar period in 1977.

The association's secondary market activity for the last nine months was $250 million, with outright loan sales exceeding $9 million, participation sales of more than $186 million, and mortgage backed securities of $54 million.

President Fletcher noted that over the last quarter, Home Federal opened a new branch in the Hillcrest/Mission Hills area of San Diego and one in Laguna Hills. Approval has been granted to establish offices in Sacramento and Mountain View.

COMBO Auction Raises $75,424 For SD Arts

San Diego arts groups are in the "Winner's Circle" with a purse of $75,424 raised at COMBO's annual black-tie dinner auction and benefit November 4.

Held in the Vacation Village ballroom decorated with banners in the dazzling colors of racing silks, the gala drew more than 350 partygoers for an evening of competitive bidding on vacations, jewelry, antiques and entertainment packages.

Chairwoman Kay Rippee, a racing enthusiast, chose the crowd-pleasing theme "COMBO '78 Presents the Winner's Circle." Renowned jockey Willie Shoemaker was honorary chairman and Ernie Myers, KOGO DJ and Agua Caliente announcer, was emcee.

Spurred on by auctioneer Chet Whalen of Buckingham Galleries, bids on many of the 110 items sold soared above their listed value. A ride in the Goodyear blimp valued at $650 sold for $900, a 10-day stay in Barbados worth $2,050 sold for $3,100 and an evening of Monday night football with former coach Sid Gillman priced at $250 sold for $625.

S.D. Likely Site For 'Desal' Plant

Once again, San Diego is a prime candidate for selection as a site for a water desalination plan demonstration program.

Rep. Bob Wilson (R-San Diego) says that the Director of the Interior Department's Office of Water Research and Technology, Gary D. Cobb, has notified him that out of the 38 sites proposed across the country, San Diego is one of the recommended sites in California.

"San Diego has a definite chance to be selected," Wilson said. "We have a history of interest in water desalting. Our area was the site of the first desalination plant in the country in the mid-'50s. That plant was later dismantled and sent to the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where it was reconstructed and put to work providing water to the Base after Castro turned off the main water supply spigot."

Wilson first introduced legislation in 1956 to build a water desalination plant. The bill resulted in the country's first plant being constructed in San Diego, thereby making the community one of the nation's leading centers of water desalting technology.

Boyle Engineering Corporation of San Diego will review the 38 identified sites and will present their assessment to the Office of Water Research and Technology by December 1 of this year.

Childrens Writing Contest Readied

The 4th Annual Children's Writing Contest for youngsters kindergarten through 9th grades will be held by the Showcase Writers Club.

The contest begins December 1 and ends January 1, according to Lawrence Calkins, president.

Rules of the contest must be followed, he said. A copy of the rules may be obtained by writing to the club at 4395 Yale, La Mesa 92041.

Highlights of the evening included lively bidding on a nine-week-old Lhasa Apso puppy that sold for $1,000 and an evening with professional wrestler Buster Durant auctioned by KCBQ radio personalities Charlie and Harrigan for $100.

The gala auction was the first of three fall fund raising events sponsored by COMBO, the Combined Arts and Education Council of San Diego County.

On December 2, three San Diego television stations, Channels 8, 10 and 39, will broadcast the COMBO television auction live from Golden Hall. More than 500 items will be sold during the 7½-hour event.

From December 2 through 4, COMBO will sell merchandise not auctioned on television or at the gala at its Pick and Pay Sale in Golden Hall. An art auction is planned in the spring.

Proceeds from all these events will be shared by 17 cultural organizations that are COMBO members. Included are California Ballet, Centro Cultural de la Raza, Civic Youth Orchestra, La Jolla Chamber Music Society, La Jolla Museum of Contemporary Art, North County Community Theatre of Vista, Old Globe Theatre, Patio Playhouse of Escondido, San Diego Ballet, San Diego Civic Light Opera (Starlight), San Diego Junior Theatre, San Diego Opera, San Diego Repertory Theatre, San Diego Symphony Chorus, San Diego Symphony, Southeast San Diego Community Theatre, Young Audiences.

Old Globe To Open Noel Coward Comedy

The name Noel Coward signifies the epitome of sophisticated comedy. The English playwright, actor, director and entertainer created some of the most memorable comedy from the early 1920s until his death in 1973.

"Present Laughter," written at the peak of Coward's creative genius in 1939, will be produced by the Old Globe Theatre beginning November 14. Performances at the Spegkels Theatre in downtown San Diego will continue through December 3. The comedy will be staged nightly except Monday at 8 p.m., plus Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. Craig Noel is director.

The personal life of a pampered London matinee idol is the basis for "Present Laughter." His stage career is threatened by his romantic entanglements when they involve partners in his professional life. The estranged wife of the stage star maneuvers to eliminate the disruption and reveals her renewed love for him.

Among the comedy characters in "Present Laughter" are the scheming wife of a business partner, an ambitious young actress, an emotional playwright, a sarcastic secretary, an independent valet and an unpredictable housekeeper.

Ken Ruta will appear as a special guest artist as the flamboyant English theatre star. Previously for the Old Globe's National Shakespeare Festival Ruta performed such roles as Antony in "Antony and Cleopatra," the title role in "King Lear" and Bottom in "A Midsummer Night's Dream." He has directed Old Globe productions of "The Lion in Winter," "The Tavern," "The Real Inspector Hound" and "After Magritte."

For several years Ruta has performed leading roles at the Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis. He acted during seasons with the American Conservatory Theatre in San Francisco and was seen in several major Broadway productions.

Helen Marquardt will take the role of the estranged wife in "Present Laughter." A three time Atlas Award winner, she most recently was honored for her leading role last season in "The Lion in Winter."

Brandi Scott Elmore and Marcy MacDonald portray current romantic pursuits with Dave Rethoret and Lary Gene Youngstead as business partners and Pat Ponich as the secretary. Carl Sander is a naive playwright, J. Aubrey Island is a valet, Katherine Faulconer is the housekeeper and Susan Shepard is a society matron.

The 1930's London studio setting is designed by John David Peters with lighting designed by Steph Storer. Costumes are designed by Donna Couchman and sound designed by Martha Gish.

'Count Dracula' Moves To Marquis Theatre

California-Pacific Theatre will move its production of "Count Dracula" to the Marquis Public Theatre, 3717 India (1/2 block from Washington street) and re-open a three week run at 8:30 tonight.

Due to the fire marshal's closing of the Balboa Park Puppet Theatre, along with other facilities in the park, California-Pacific Theatre found itself without a location to finish the already successful run of "Count Dracula." Quick provisions were made to move the show to the Marquis Theatre so that with only a week's delay the production could proceed on schedule.

"Count Dracula" is a comic-melodramatic presentation of the traditional Dracula myth which has the heroine, Mina, pursued by Dracula in order to turn her into his vampire bride. Mina is ultimately saved from this horrible death-in-life by her fiancé, her guardian and his close friend, a professor with special knowledge of vampires.

Detailed research on this production was performed by director Janaki Dean and her cast, including holding a seminar in Los Angeles with Dr. Donald Reed, president of the American Dracula Society. Reed is also a professional consultant for all horror movies made in Hollywood.

Featured in California-Pacific Theatre's production are: William Irish, Terry Brengle, Nancy Teas, Mark Kincaid, Ric Barr, Willy Bipp, Garry Crotty, James Strait and Darla Cash.

California-Pacific Theatre will be presenting "Count Dracula" Thursdays-Sundays through November 26 except Thanksgiving day, November 23, at the Marquis Theatre at 8:30 p.m. Because of limited seating, patrons are asked to call the theatre offices for reservations: 234-7938.

Buffum's Opening Fete To Benefit LM Arts Center

A "Premiere Benefit Opening" of the Grossmont Center Buffums store, scheduled for Saturday, will raise money to aid the Women's Committee of the Grossmont Community Concert Association in efforts to build a community cultural arts center in La Mesa.

The event, featuring a cocktail buffet, strolling madrigal singers and classical music, as well as disco dancing and modeling and door prizes, will be from 6 through 9 p.m. at the new store, which will have its Christmas decorations up.

The music will be provided by a classical octet led by Spring Valley resident Charles McLeod. Door prizes will be a Russian sable fling by Fabiani and a Lalique crystal Champs Elysee jardiniere.

Price for admission and door-prize drawing is $10 per person. Reservations must be made in advance, by calling Buffums at 464-7400. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Wildlife Prints On Display at Nat'l Monument

An exhibit of wildlife prints by the artist Charles Harper will be on display in the Visitor Center at Cabrillo National Monument through November 27. The exhibit contains 21 silkscreen prints of animals and birds. It will be open to the public daily from 9 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. "Everyone who is interested in art, or in the wildlife of their National Parks is invited out to the park to enjoy this exhibit," said Superintendent Tom Tucker.

Harper's work is becoming increasingly popular due to his unusual and imaginative interpretation of wildlife seen by visitors to the National Parks. Many of his works are subtle environmental messages that show the relationships of the plants, animals and birds to one another, Tucker said.

This exhibit is one of two traveling exhibits of Harper's works produced by the National Park Service. It was on display at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area in Redding, and Redwood National Park at Crescent City before coming to Cabrillo. From Cabrillo it will go to Yosemite National Park and then to Death Valley National Monument.

Information on where to acquire prints of Harper's work is available at Cabrillo National Monument.

Dignity, Patriotism For Flag Retirement

A Flag Retirement and Disposal program will be held Saturday by the Mission Valley VFW and Auxiliary at the Post Home, 4370 Twain ave., S.D. at 2 p.m.

Phillip E. Franke

Pvt. Phillip E. Franke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franke, 9017 Conrad dr., Spring Valley, recently completed the multichannel communications equipment operator course under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program of the U.S. Army Signal School, Fort Gordon, Georgia.

The OSUT program combines basic training with advanced individual training. Students learned to install, operate and repair field radio relay, carrier and associated equipment.

Franke is a 1976 graduate of Monte Vista High School.

Edward E. Pascua

Edward E. Pascua, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo T. Pascua, 8320 Holt st., Spring Valley, completed cadet basic training at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

Formerly called "New Cadet Barracks" or "Beast Barracks," it is an intense eight weeks in which new cadets learn the demanding standards of military courtesy, personal appearance, and physical fitness expected of a cadet.

A 1978 graduate of Samuel F. B. Morse High School, Cadet Pascua received a congressional appointment to the academy.

YOU WANNA DO WHAT?? — Louis Guss delivers a clumsy pass to non-receptive Nanci Hunter in the Fiesta Dinner Theatre's production of Neil Simon's comedy "Last of the Red Hot Lovers." The play continues at the Spring Valley theatre through Dec. 10.

'Red Hot Lovers' Opens to Full House

By Ardis McCullough

The ordeal of a 47-year-old restaurant operator who tries his best to get involved in extra-marital affairs is the subject matter of Neil Simon's "Last of the Red-Hot Lovers," which opened to a full house last week at Spring Valley's Fiesta Dinner Theatre.

"Lovers" will continue at the theatre, located at 9665 Campo dr. in Casa de Oro, through December 10. For reservations visit the ticket office or call 697-8977.

Louis Guss plays Barney Cashman, the "lover" of the title, who tries to become involved with Elaine, played by Nanci Hunter as a physically hungry but calloused sophisticate.

He also encounters Pat Flanigan as Bobbi, a spaced-out youth and Marie Moneen as Jeanette, a depressed, negative, long-time friend of his wife.

Barney's clearly not accustomed to the rules of the romantic hunt, and his efforts are clumsy—from using his finicky mother's apartment for a rendezvous, to always having the smell of fish on his fingers at the wrong time.

Frank Wayne directed the four-member cast.

Helix PTSA Seeks Art Auction-Goers

The Helix High School P.T.S.A. seeks community support for an art auction to be held next Thursday, November 16, in the school cafeteria.

The Robert Sills Gallery of Los Angeles will present a large collection of original lithographs, etchings, and graphics signed and numbered by many of the world's most renowned artists. There will also be an enriching array of water-colors and original oil paintings from all parts of the world. Each work of art is beautifully framed and ready to hang on your wall.

Cancellation of the 1978 summer school session eliminated the summer snack program traditionally run by the P.T.S.A. To meet its 78-79 budget and award student scholarships the group needs a minimum of 250 adults in attendance at the auction and the gallery will guarantee $1000.

Admission is free. Refreshments will be served. Viewing begins at 7 p.m. Attendance is counted at the beginning of the actual auction at 8:30 p.m. Those attending are under no obligation to buy.

For additional information contact Dorothy Ryan, 460-3654.

Lamplighters Seek Actors, Actresses For January Show

The Lamplighters Community Theatre will hold auditions for "Bell, Book and Candle" by John van Druten at 7:30 p.m. next Monday at the Fine Arts Center, 8053 University ave., La Mesa (next door to the La Mesa Library). Parts are available for three men and two women, ages 25 to 60. The play will open on January 5 and run for four weekends. For further information call 464-4598.

David L. Starke

Navy Seaman David L. Starke, whose wife, Kathrene is the daughter of Bob and Kathrene Bybee of 13616 Jamul dr., Jamul, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

During the 8-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

Starke joined the Navy in December 1977.

Daryel Stager, Jr.

Cpl. Daryel S. Stager Jr., whose parents live at 8883 Crestmore, Spring Valley, is participating with other American and allied troops in REFORGER '78, NATO's largest yearly exercise, held in Germany.

More than 11,000 soldiers were flown to Germany and some 37,000 tons of equipment and supplies have been shipped from the U.S. for the massive exercise.

REFORGER (Return of Forces to Germany) results from a 1976 agreement between the U.S., United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany. The U.S. agreed to return stateside-based forces to Germany each year for exercises to demonstrate allied solidarity.

The entire exercise emphasizes the orderly disposition of forces and stresses deployment procedures and techniques.

Stager entered the Army in May 1975 and is a senior gunner with the 61st Air Defense Artillery in Budeing.

He is a 1976 graduate of Mount Miguel High School.

Calif. Screwworm Invasion Plagues Livestock, Pets

California is suffering the worst invasion of screwworm parasites since 1973, according to veterinarians of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

As of Nov. 1, California had 158 confirmed screwworm cases in livestock and pets, compared with nine in 1977. In 1973, the worst year on record, the Nov. 1 total was 186 cases. New cases reported in October this year totaled 56, making it the worst October ever.

The screwworm hatches from eggs laid by adult flies in open wounds on warm-blooded animals. They weaken animals, causing economic losses for commercial stock raisers and failing health for domestic pets.

Dr. John Healy, veterinarian in charge of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) office in Sacramento, said for the first time since the federal screwworm eradication effort began in the southwest in 1962, confirmed cases have appeared in the San Joaquin Valley. Healy listed the county totals: San Diego 78, Riverside 32, Fresno 13, Imperial and San Luis Obispo 9 each, Madera 5, San Bernardino 3, Tulare and Merced 2 each, Los Angeles, San Joaquin and Stanislaus 1 each, and two of unknown origin.

Healy said it is a bad screwworm year throughout the southwest. Arizona has reported more than 4,000 cases, New Mexico and Texas more than 1,000 each, Colorado four, and the first case ever reported in Nevada.

Federal and state agencies are cooperating in the eradication effort through distribution of sterile male screwworm flies by air. The sterile flies, hatched at a USDA facility at Mission, Texas, mate with "native" females and the resultant eggs do not hatch. In time this can control and finally eliminate the screwworm population from an area.

Dr. Jack Pitcher, in charge of west coast operations for USDA's screwworm fly distribution facility at Douglas, Arizona, said almost 94,000,000 sterile flies had been released in California as of Oct. 14.

YOU AND YOUR PET

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.

Healthy Pets, Healthy People

There are many reasons for providing adequate medical care for your pet. We have a responsibility toward those animals we choose to bring into our lives. More selfishly, pets are fun when they are healthy and active. And last but not least, we protect ourselves by keeping our pets free from disease.

Fortunately, there aren't many diseases that are easily transferred from pets to people. The most dangerous is rabies, usually fatal to humans.

Rabies is a viral infection that can be carried by dogs, cats, bats — all warm-blooded animals. Since humans and dogs live in close contact, the dog bite is a common source of human infection.

There are excellent rabies vaccines available that can provide your dog with as much as three years' protection with a single injection. The injections are a preventive measure and must be given before the pet is exposed to the disease. Each pet owner helps to protect the entire community as well as family members when pets are vaccinated against rabies.

Some pet owners question the necessity "in this day and age" for a rabies vaccination. I always remind them that vaccination itself is the reason we don't see this life-threatening disease more often.

A less threatening but more embarrassing condition that can be transferred from pets to humans is ringworm. Caused by a fungus, not a worm, the infection produces circular scaly patches on the pet's skin, with redness and hair loss. Your veterinarian can provide ointments or shampoos to control the infection, and may clip the pet to remove fungus remaining in the hair. A person whose pet has a confirmed case of ringworm may want to contact a physician for ringworm examination. In the meantime, keep children away from the affected animal until healing progresses.

Parasites can also be transferred from pet to owner. The most common examples are ticks and fleas. Ticks are eight-legged round or oval parasites that resemble seeds. They are slow moving and attach themselves to the skin surface. Fleas are smaller, fast-moving insects that scurry through the pet's coat when exposed to light. Both these pests feed on the blood of the host animal and may carry serious disease, such as Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

The parasites can be controlled on the pet by flea and tick collars, pesticide dusts and shampoos. The type of control that is most effective will vary. Most pets do well with the pest control collars, used according to directions. Some dogs and cats spending much time outside or having heavy coats may require shampoos to reach all the parasites in their fur.

One more human health problem related to pets in the house is allergy. An individual human being's chemistry may find a pet's hair or dander an irritating agent and respond accordingly. Wheezing, sneezing, watery eyes and itching skin are examples of allergic reactions.

With the exception of allergy, which is a very individual situation, pets normally offer no major health threat to human beings. If your pets are well-groomed, their living quarters are kept clean and family members observe the rules of good hygiene, pets in the family will add to everyone's enjoyment of life.

9 Realtors' Licenses Revoked In 'Biggest Recent Swindle'

Calling it "the biggest real estate swindle in recent history", California Department of Real Estate (DRE) Director David H. Fox has announced revocation of the licenses of nine real estate agents, all prime movers in the fraudulent promotion and sale of more than $18 million in overpriced California land.

Solicited by Pre-Builder Land Corporation (PBL) and its associates, over 1,000 innocent investors were lured into purchasing more than $18 million of overpriced land located mainly in Riverside, San Bernardino, San Benito, and Placer Counties.

"Victims from throughout California, many other states, and several foreign countries bought, relying on the false, fraudulent, and deceitful representations that the PBL people offered land at substantially below market value, utilized a large and expert staff, and only sold property with excellent profit potential," Fox said.

Following an intensive DRE investigation and subsequent administrative hearing, Fox has ordered revocation of the broker licenses of Pre-Builder Land Corporation, Pre-Builder Land Resale Corporation, Robert John Koeppele, Leslie Dahl Gleave, and Hyman C. Bluming, and

IRS Tax Institute At G'Mont College

The latest developments in the field of federal and state income tax preparation will be presented on an intermediate level during the 4-day General Tax Practitioner Institute conducted by Grossmont Community College District's Office of Community Education in conjunction with the Department of the Treasury, Internal Revenue Service. Through an agreement with the State Accountancy Board, a maximum of 32 hours of Accountancy Continuing Education credit can be allowed for license renewal.

The 4 sessions, 2 by IRS and 2 by private tax experts, will be offered 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. November 17, 18; December 8, 9 in the new 1200-seat East County Performing Arts Center, 210 E. Main, El Cajon. A registration fee of $30 will be charged, and will cover all handout tax materials.

The fee may be paid at the door, or for assured seating a check may be sent, listing names and addresses of each participant at $30 to Dr. Eugene A. Farrar, Grossmont Community College District, 8800 Grossmont College Dr., El Cajon, CA 92020. Make check payable to Grossmont College District and enclose stamped envelope.

Keynote speakers will be William H. Connert, District Director, IRS, Los Angeles, and Martin Huff, Executive Officer, State Franchise Tax Board, Sacramento.

LG Girl Attends French University

A Lemon Grove resident attending San Diego State University is one of 423 students participating in the 1978-79 International Programs of The California State University and Colleges.

Susan Carter, 1551 Corta del Sur, is attending the University of Provence in France.

The International Programs, established in 1963, permit students from SDSU to study in any of 13 countries for an academic year while simultaneously earning credit at State.

The primary objective of the program is to enable selected students to gain first-hand knowledge and understanding of other cultures through rigorous full-time university study in a foreign environment.

Eligibility is limited to students who will have junior, senior or graduate status during their year abroad, a minimum 2.75 or 3.0 out of a 4.0 grade point average, who show ability to adapt to new environments and who meet language requirements set for some of the programs.

New Airport Radar Improves Detection of Light Aircraft

A $3.6 million contract for five technically-advanced airport surveillance radars has been awarded by the Federal Aviation Administration to Texas Instruments Inc., Dallas, Texas.

Known as the ASR-8, the equipment incorporates the latest technology including a dual beam antenna which improves detection of light aircraft, reduces ground clutter on the radar scope and provides expanded low angle coverage. It also uses a klystron transmitter tube which gives twice the power output of older airport surveillance radar.

Other features include solid state design, integrated circuitry and modular construction. As a result, the equipment has a high reliability rating and maintenance down time is held to a minimum.

The five new ASR-8s will be installed at FAA air traffic control facilities serving major airports but the exact locations have not yet been determined. Deliveries will begin in June 1979 and be completed by March 1980.

Ask Your C.H.P.

C.H.P. Capt. C. M. Douglas

Last time Capt. Douglas discussed U-Turns. If you have a question, no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It could save your life — or at least save you a citation.

Address your questions to this newspaper, and allow several weeks for your answer to appear.

This week's question:
"Do I have to yield the right-of-way to a bicyclist riding his or her bicycle in a crosswalk, like I would for a pedestrian?"

Capt. Douglas' answer:
A bicyclist riding a bicycle is not considered a pedestrian by law, but is subject to the same laws as a motor vehicle. Even though you might have the right of way, depending on where the crosswalk is located, this doesn't relieve you of the responsibility of exercising due care for other vehicles. If an individual walks his or her bicycle in the crosswalk, then the cyclist is considered a pedestrian and you must yield the right-of-way.

The right-of-way laws are probably the most misunderstood provisions in the Vehicle Code. The best practice to follow is never to assume you have an absolute right of way and, when in doubt, give the right of way to the other driver.

D. Stark Named County Coroner

David J. Stark, who has been acting coroner since last February, has been appointed to the post of coroner of the County of San Diego effective immediately.

The coroner's department performs autopsies and chemical analysis to determine the cause and means of death, and conducts inquests.

Stark replaces Robert Creason who retired in February after having served as coroner since 1932. The coroner's salary range is from $26,977 to $29,744.

The new coroner heads a staff of deputy coroners who act as investigators, pathologists, toxicologists, embalmers and clerical personnel to carry out the department duties.

Stark served as assistant coroner for 8 years and was deputy coroner for the 6 prior years. Previously, he was an embalmer in the coroner's department. He began his professional career in the local mortuary field in 1954.

$1/2 Million FedFunds For Low-cost Remodeling

A $529,000 infusion of federal funds for low-cost rehabilitation loan programs operated by the City and County of San Diego has been announced through the office of Rep. Lionel Van Deelen, (D.).

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) advised Van Deelen it was allocating $296,000 to the city and $233,000 to the county for low-interest loans available to both homeowners and business people.

The County Housing Authority said the federal money will augment about $1.2 million already on hand for rehabilitation purposes. The county administers housing programs for every city in the county except San Diego, National City and Carlsbad.

A spokesman said the federal funds would underwrite repairs of about 50 homes. He noted the money can be "recycled," as loans are paid back. Only 3 per cent interest is charged, and the loans are repayable over 20 years.

The city's share of the HUD money will be added to $3 million previously allocated for rehabilitation from Community Development Block Grant funds. San Diego is emphasizing commercial loans, primarily in the downtown Gaslamp Quarter.

Zoo, Park Change Hours
Winter operating hours for the San Diego Zoo and the San Diego Wild Animal Park are now in effect.

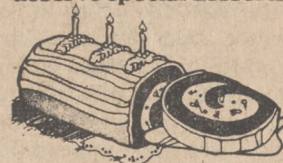

Under the new schedule, both the Zoo and the Wild Animal Park will be open daily 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Visitors may remain on the grounds until 5 p.m.

At the Zoo, the last guided tour will depart at 4 p.m. The Children's Zoo will be open 9:30 a.m.-4 p.m., and the Zoo's Skyfari aerial tramway will stay open until 4 p.m.

The last tour of the Wgasa Bushline Monorail at the Wild Animal Park will depart at 4 p.m. Birds of Prey Shows are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 1 and 3:15 p.m. and Elephant Shows are at noon and 2 p.m.

The winter operating schedule for both institutions will be in effect through February.
